

- Purpose: To select qualified and ambitious leaders, currently enrolled as first-year Freshmen, attending the University of Wisconsin-Madison for full-time undergraduate studies. The scholarship is intended to assist those students who cannot otherwise afford tuition at the University.
- Applicants: John W. Jung scholarship recipients will be chosen through a competitive application and interview process. Finalists will be chosen from the first round of applications for an interview process tentatively scheduled for mid October 2013, with location to be determined. In-person interviews are preferred. Applications are due by Friday, September 27, 2013.
- Qualifications: Qualified applicants must possess a combination of or all of the following characteristics: strong leadership qualities and experience holding a position of leadership in his/her school or community; financial need; community involvement; extracurricular involvement; and desire to complete a post- secondary education. The most important criteria in the selection process will be demonstration of leadership qualities and potential for continued leadership at the University of Wisconsin—Madison. Financial need is weighted second.
- Award Amount: Scholarship recipients will receive an award of $1,000 per academic year toward tuition costs at the University of Wisconsin—Madison. This $1,000 award is renewable for a total of four years to assist the undergraduate, subject to the maintenance of the grade point average and community service requirement discussed below. The amount of the award will be paid directly to the tuition office in equal amounts of $500 at the start of each semester.
- Narrative: Scholarship applicants must complete all attached scholarship forms and provide additional information as required in the application. A scholarship committee will review the initial applicants and will select a number of applicants for an interview process. Scholarship awards will be made by November 15 of the academic year.

Scholarship recipients will be expected to maintain a GPA of at least 2.5 throughout the period in which they receive the scholarship award. Recipients who do not maintain a 2.5 GPA during any given semester will not be eligible for the award the following semester.

Recipients are also asked to provide 15 hours of community service per semester, preferably leading and organizing a student-based event that raises awareness of substance abuse or promotes another cause aligned with the objectives of the John W. Jung Memorial. Recipients must provide documentation regarding GPA and community service to the John W. Jung Memorial within two (2) weeks of receiving final semester grades. Recipients may ask for guidance from designated members of the scholarship committee to coordinate community service projects and GPA confirmation.

Recipients will network and receive mentoring from friends of John W. Jung—both current students and alumni of the University. As friends of John W. Jung, we are committed to carrying on his name and work by providing opportunities for young leaders to obtain a world-class education and learning experience. Good luck and, ON WISCONSIN!
